

After Vacation Rope Circles

Put kids in groups holding a rope circle, or it may be more engaging to have them sit on the floor and move the rope around with their feet. Only the person with the knot may speak. Have kids answer these questions in their group:

- What was the best thing you received during break? (You may want to model by saying the best thing you received was a compliment so they are not so focused on material things)
- If you traveled somewhere, where did you go?
- What was the best thing you ate over break?
- What was the most fun thing you did over break?
- Did you help someone over break?
- What did you do (or try) that you have never done before?
