

Introductions

"Introductions" is a name game.

The group should be wearing name tags. Have each person act as if they are hosting a party. Each person meets up with two others. They take turns introducing the other two people to each other.